Using the Web: Find the Right Site

1. What topic will you be researching?

2. These two Web sites are search sites.

Yahooligans

<http://www.yahooligans.com>

Google Directory – Kids and Teens

http://directory.google.com/Top/Kids_and_Teens/

Choose one of them and type its address (the part that begins with http) into the blank at the top of your computer screen. Then press Return or Enter. Which search site did you choose?

3. Write down a key word or words to use for your search.

4. Type your key word(s) into the blank box next to the word “Search” on the search site. Your computer screen should now show a list of Web sites, with descriptions of each one. Read the descriptions and choose three sites that look useful. Write the names of the three Web sites here.

5. Now go to the three Web sites and find at least one new fact about your topic from each one. If the sites you chose don't have information that you want, go back to your list of sites and find others that are more helpful. Write down the three facts that you learned.
